

Continuance of County School Supervisors Urged by Rural Superintendents

To Parents, Taxpayers, and County Board of Education:

The undersigned superintendents of Hempstead County Schools wish to take this means of making an appeal to the parents, taxpayers, and Board of Education of Hempstead County to exert every effort possible to see to it that the office of County School Supervisor remains as is now and at all times in the foreseeable future.

Listed below are some of the many services that law provides must be rendered by the staff in the County Supervisor's office:

The County School Supervisor is the superintendent of Hempstead County School District No. 3, charged with the same duties as any other superintendent in the county. He is the bonded official of this district and the ex-officio financial secretary of a five-man school board. In this connection he is charged with the receiving and disbursing of approximately $70,000 school monies each year.

The County Supervisor's office keeps a complete set of books for five districts in Hempstead County involving approximately $575,000 in receipts and disbursements.

The County Supervisor keeps a record of the certificates of all teachers.

He keeps a record of contracts made with teachers and other employees.

He keeps a record of monthly attendance and transportation reports from each school.

He keeps an employment record for all teachers.

He serves as liaison officer between the various school districts of the county and the Arkansas Teacher Retirement System and State Board of Education.

He serves as ex-officio secretary to the County Board of Education and makes a record of the Board's actions and records them in a permanent book.

Early in each school year he compiles and files with the State Board of Education a comprehensive report of attendance, finances, etc. of each district in the county for the preceding year.

Even though it is the duty of the County Board of Election Commissioners to provide for the annual school election, our Supervisor works with and prepares for this Board all necessary election materials such as ballots, filing of petitions for candidates, writing notices of publication and in other matters necessary in helping conduct the annual school election.

He makes arrangements and conducts the annual school bus inspection that has to be made between July 1 and December 1 each year.

He works closely with the local school districts and State Board of Education in other matters of school transportation.

He organizes and conducts in-service teachers' training programs with the teachers in the county such as pre-school workshops.

He receives and distributes to the various school districts of the county each month 20 to 30 thousand pounds of surplus commodities for the school lunch programs.

He keeps an up-to-date record of the bonded indebtedness of all districts in the county.

Our County Supervisor provides a depository for free textbooks. He makes requisitions and keeps books on the free textbook program for six of the school districts of the county.

He is also active during the week preceding the adoption of books each year and takes care of many of the details of this annual selection.

He is charged with the responsibility of conducting GED tests to veterans desiring Certificates of Equivalency.

He is charged with the responsibility of compiling quarterly Social Security reports and transmitting all of the payments to the Social Security Division.

He is required by law to supervise and conduct the biennial school census in all districts of the county.

The reports, records, files, and staff members of the County Supervisor's office are used by the state school auditors each year in making the annual audit of the various school districts in the county.

The abolition of the County Supervisor's office would not reduce the taxes of any taxpayer in Hempstead County or elsewhere in the state. It would shift the responsibility of performing the above mentioned duties to almost impossible means of execution and would actually increase the cost thereof. It is for this reason as well as others that the undersigned superintendents wish to again plead with all persons interested in schools to help keep the County School Supervisor's office.

Peebles Out, Dr. Holt Files for Co. Board

The filing deadline for nominations in the school election Dec. 5, which was Wednesday night, Nov. 15, brought a surprise switch in the contest for the county-at-large membership on the County Board of Education.

Milton Peebles, Saratoga school superintendent, whose term expires this year and who had refused to commit himself on the question of abolishing the office of County School Supervisor, failed to file for re-election.

Instead, petitions with a total of 190 signatures were filed for Dr. Forney G. Holt of Hope, former local teacher and principal at Hope High School.

The December 5 election, therefore will find Dr. Holt opposing Herbert M. Stephens of Blevins, for whom nominating petitions were filed on a platform favoring abolishment of the office of County School Supervisor.

Here is the complete list of filings in Hempstead County for the Dec. 5 school election:

American Flags Go to Schools

Seven new American flags were presented to Hope Schools by the Leslie Huddleston Unit 12 of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. Joe Jones, Unit American chairman, presented the flags on behalf of the Arkansas Legion Auxiliary, and home room teachers accepted them for the schools. Students conducted appropriate flag raising ceremonies and the flags were installed in permanent brackets in the classrooms.

During the year 1961 the local American Legion Auxiliary in cooperation with station KXAR has sold 29 new American flags to downtown merchants and citizens. These were displayed on Veterans Day, Nov. 11.

Auxiliary Sets Annual Yule Bazaar

Homemade candies and cakes, Christmas decorations, ragdolls, stick horses, place mats, aprons for men and women, Christmas stockings and many other attractive articles will go on sale at the Junior Auxiliary's Christmas Bazaar on Nov. 30 and Dec. 1.

On the corner of Elm and Front Streets, in the temporary Junior Auxiliary Workshop, will be displayed unusual gifts priced just right for "teachers presents," colorful table accessories for the seasonal entertaining, appealing stuffed toys for the young fry and many lovely items to make Christmas shopping a greater pleasure.

The Junior Auxiliary extends an invitation for all to visit their bazaar on the dates mentioned above.

Sad Deer Season Tale Is Tragedy of Jenny, Family Pet Some Hunter Killed

The Star docket in Hope Municipal Court of Nov. 6, published in Hope Star of Nov. 7, carried this terse item:

"Bill Jones, hunting out of season and killing a doe. Forfeited $121 cash bond."

There are many Bill Jones' in southwest Arkansas. Inquiry at the Municipal Court identified this Bill Jones as being from Prescott, and The Star printed this on Nov. 9.

But the Prescott identification backfired. Following this there was a period of silence while The Star investigated.

On Nov. 13 Mrs. William Gilbert of Washington Route One (Cross Roads Community) wrote the newspaper a letter in which at least the deer was identified. The doe was "Jenny," a family pet whose story and picture The Star published not long ago.

A year earlier Mrs. Gilbert's son had found the fawn in woods on the family farm and brought her to the house, where she was raised on a bottle, lost her spots as she grew up, and acquired a collar and a linking bell. She ran with the cattle, played with the dog, but disliked the family cat.

This was "Jenny" — now unfortunately deceased. And the unfortunate man with a deer gun, name of Bill Jones, now is identified by Hope Municipal Court as being from Saratoga. Written this 16th day of Nov., 1961, in the name of all the guys by the name of Bill Jones.

Children in Most Poison Accidents

Recently released data shows that 90% of all "poisoning accidents" involve children under five years of age. Children in this age group are old enough to open cabinets and unscrew bottle caps, but they are not old enough to know the contents may be harmful.

Children imitate parents in many ways. A child will see his parents taking medicine and may be tempted to try the medicine himself. This can be dangerous. Parents are urged to select a safe storage space for the family's medicines, a place where they will be out of sight and out of reach of children.

Cornerstone for Federal Building

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The cornerstone for the new federal building here will be laid next Tuesday in a brief ceremony.

The building, started in 1959, should be completed early next month.

The cornerstone will bear the name of Dwight D. Eisenhower as president, since the building was started before President Kennedy.

PSC Washes Hands of Gas Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Public Service Commission washed its hands of the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., rate increase case Wednesday, saying the matter is now a question for Pulaski Circuit Court to settle.

The PSC's reference to the court, made while the commission was rejecting a last ditch motion by cities opposing the increase, uncovered a contest suit which was filed in the circuit court Nov. 2.

City Attorney James Spencer Jr., of El Dorado, legal quarter-back for the cities, said he filed the suit on his way to Washington. "We asked the court to reverse the commission's decision and to remand the case to the commission with instructions for it to order a refund," he said.

The PSC on Sept. 29 approved a rate increase which will boost Arkla's earnings an estimated $1.2 million a year. It will cost each customer in 52 cities on Arkla's integrated system 77 cents a month.

The cities filed several motions asking the PSC to reconsider its decision and these were rejected one by one. All that was hanging when the suit was filed was El Dorado's petition asking the commission to reconsider its decision rejecting a previous motion for reconsideration.

The PSC disposed of that Wednesday.

Mills Fears for U. S. Economy

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., said Wednesday night that the American economy needs a long-term advance instead of short-term recoveries after recessions.

Mills addressed the Farm and Ranch Club of Arkansas in his first public appearance in Little Rock since the legislature put Pulaski County into his new district.

The congressman, as he has before, called for tax reforms, a liberalized export policy and a reduction in non-defense government spending.

Mills is a long-time advocate of tax reductions on larger incomes. He contends this would provide investment capital to spur the economy.

The congressman praised American agriculture, calling it "the most efficient and progressive industry in our country."

Eleven Japanese who are touring the country studying rural development were guests of the club for Mills' speech.

13 Airmen Are Brutally Slain by Congolese

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Congo (AP) — The United Nations today announced that insurgent Congolese troops had "brutally murdered" 13 Italian U.N. airmen at the Kivu Province town of Kindu.

A U.N. spokesman said the unarmed fliers were shot by unruly troops shortly after their arrest last Saturday afternoon.

Some of their bodies were dismembered and hurled into the Lualaba River, the spokesman added, by soldiers who apparently suspected them of being Belgian paratroopers.

The U.N. spokesman, George Ivan Smith, said the U.N. command was presenting "specific proposals" to the central Congo government for forceful action to investigate and punish those responsible for the murder and to prevent a repetition.

If the government response seems insufficient, Smith said, the U.N. is prepared to act immediately on its own. He added that Malayan troops prepared for any necessary action, already are being flown to reinforce the 200-man Malayan U.N. garrison in Kindu.

The U.N. already had threatened military action if the rebellious soldiers—part of a disorderly command of more than 2,000 claiming allegiance to leftist Vice Premier Antoine Gizenga—failed to give up the Italians.

U.N. headquarters' here was in teletype consultation with Acting Secretary-General U Thant in New York throughout the night to decide on the next steps to be taken by the world body.

The murder of the Italians was announced after word that Congolese Gen. Victor Lundulu had returned to Kindu for another attempt to secure the Italians' release and to quell what was described as an open mutiny against the authority of the central government. Diplomats in Leopoldville said Gizenga himself was responsible for the mutiny.

President Sad at Death of Mr. Rayburn

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy, saddened by the death of House Speaker Sam Rayburn, set out today on a four-day Western trip.

The trip will be partly political but probably will open with a major foreign policy talk. The schedule includes Democratic party tributes and a display of naval striking power, but might be altered so that Kennedy could attend Rayburn's funeral.

Kennedy's big jet took off from Andrews Air Force Base in Maryland at 9:31 a.m. EST for Seattle, where he speaks at the University of Washington's 100th anniversary celebration this afternoon.

Before leaving, Kennedy met with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other foreign policy advisors. The discussions presumably included the visit to Washington next week by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany.

Nowadays housebroken refers to the financial condition of the fellow who has just built a new home.

Cancer Proves Fatal to Sam Rayburn

BULLETIN

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
BONHAM, Tex. (AP) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn, "Mister Democrat" to millions of Americans, died today.

Death by cancer and its complications ended the colorful political career of the 79-year-old Texan at Risser Hospital here.

The first notification of Rayburn's death went to the White House in Washington, and the actual announcement that he was dead came from there.

One of the first to be notified too, was Rep. John McCormack, of Massachusetts, the Democratic leader of the House, and the man who is the leading candidate to succeed Rayburn as speaker.

Members of Rayburn's immediate family were gathered at the little yellow brick hospital where he died in the gray hours of the rising dawn.

They left soon after for the Rayburn home on the outskirts of Bonham.

No immediate funeral plans were announced, but it is expected that President Kennedy will be one of those who will attend the services.

Rayburn achieved one wish concerning his death but failed in another.

"I want to die with my boots on and with my gavel in my hand," the venerable dean of 20th century politics told friends when he left Washington at the end of August for what was to be his final departure.

"They're going to have to carry me out of here, God willing. I love this house," he said. Later, when illness ravaged his body, his associates quoted him as saying he wanted to return to this community, his hometown, to end his days among "those friends and neighbors who for so long have given me a love and loyalty unsurpassed in any annals."

He was brought to this town of 7,000 persons Oct. 31 from Baylor Hospital in Dallas, 75 miles southeast of here.

A diagnosis of cancer was made shortly after he entered Baylor Oct. 2 for a series of tests to determine what was causing a chronic back ailment.

The ailment, originally described by Rayburn as "lumbago" forced him to abandon his post as boss of the House almost a month before the last session of Congress adjourned.

It was an unprecedented thing for "Mr. Sam" to do, and friends immediately suspected that Rayburn himself feared the worst. The family would not permit doctors or associates to reveal whether Rayburn had been informed of the hopelessness of his illness.

At one point, when he had wasted away from 176 pounds to 130, Continued on Page Two GRIM RECONSTRUCTION — Scraps, bits and pieces of what once was a proud airliner are being assembled at Chicago's Midway Airport. They are the remnants of a TWA Constellation that crashed in a cornfield near Hinsdale, Ill., killing all 78 persons aboard. Technicians have begun a reconstruction of the plane's original shape, seeking clues to the cause of the disaster. Arrows point to the tail assembly, which was not as badly mangled.

Airliners Collide on Boston Port

BOSTON (AP) — Two airliners collided Wednesday night at a runway crossing on Logan International Airport.

Fifteen persons were injured, none seriously.

The collision wrecked one of the planes, a Northeast Airlines jet-prop Viscount. The entire after end of the plane was torn off, including the lounge and part of the passenger cabin.

The other plane, a four-engine DC-6, owned by National Airlines, came to a halt after the crash with its nose on the ground, the landing gear was broken, the hot-tom of the nose chewed, and the fuselage cracked open just back of the pilots' compartment.

Gizenga's reported activity in the eastern Congo was causing open concern among the secretary-general and his top aides.

landed after a flight from Washington and New York. The National plane was preparing to take off for New York.

A Federal Aviation Agency statement early today gave this version of the crash:

"Northeast Flight 120 was on final approach to land on runway 4-R when the Boston tower local controller instructed the National Airlines flight: 'National 429, Boston Tower, taxi into position and hold runway 9.' National flight responded: '429.' The tower controller observed National 429 move on the taxiway and entering runway 9, then directed his attention to the aircraft on final approach.

"Northeast Flight 120 was observed to touch down on runway 4-R approximately 1,000 feet before the intersection. Simultaneously, National 429 was observed to start his takeoff roll on runway 9 from a position approximately 1,000 feet short of the same intersection; the tower controller immediately transmitted a warning to National 429 but the aircraft collided at the intersection of the two runways."

The Northeast plane had a crew of 4 and 40 passengers, and the National liner carried 25 passengers and a crew of 5.

Bitter Winds Hit Storm Stricken Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bitter winds blew across miles of snow-covered countryside today behind the second storm to buffet New Mexico and Texas in three days. The new storm also hit Colorado, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Blizzard conditions lingered on the eastern Colorado plains, closing U.S. Highway 160 west of Springfield and U.S. 40 between Kit Carson and Cheyenne Wells.

New snow thickened the icy coverlet in extreme northern New Mexico and parts of the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles, and spread eastward into Kansas.

Skies cleared early today in the Texas and New Mexico areas. Snow continued in Oklahoma, where it blocked roads west of Boise City in the state's western-most county.

Elsewhere in the storm sector, subfreezing temperatures bit many highways glassy slick and hazardous.

Fresh snow measured a foot or more at some points and considerable amounts remained from the preceding two days—up to 36 inches in the mountains of south central New Mexico, where there were 6-foot drifts.

Cancer Proves

he told a great-nephew, Robert Bartley Jr., 23, that "this is the damndest thing that ever got a hold of me."

Four days after he entered the hospital, doctors announced that he had incurable cancer of the lymph system which roughly parallels the blood system throughout the body.

His condition took a sudden turn for the worse Oct. 11 when he contracted pneumonia. Doctors said at first he was unconscious, then said he was in a coma, a technical medical difference. Persons in a coma do not react to stimulus.

He revived the following day after use of antibiotics and special breathing aids.

The day after doctors reported cancer, his longtime personal friend and political protégé, Vice President Lyndon Johnson, flew to his bedside. After that, Johnson visited Rayburn as often as his national duties permitted.

President Kennedy flew 3,000 miles round trip for a 14-minute visit with Rayburn on Oct. 9. They talked about politics, said the Man Wounded by Shotgun Blasts

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP)—Billy Bob Bell, 30, was wounded by several blasts from a shotgun at nearby Plumerville today, and State Police said his uncle, Sam Bell, 75, was held in the Conway County Jail.

Both men are from Plumerville. W. O. Hice, Conway County tax assessor, said Bell came to his office in the courthouse while police were searching for him. Hice said the shooting erupted from an argument over a lawsuit in connection with the estate of a late relative of the men.

James Stone of the State Police said Bell was shot in the hand and leg, and was taken to a Morrilton hospital. He was not thought to be in serious condition.

President.

Then came Rayburn's old political foe, former President Harry S. Truman, on Oct. 13.

"He told me where to get off just like he did when I was in the White House. I was so happy at the way he treated me," said Truman.

"Sam Rayburn means everything to me that one man can mean to another," said the former president.

During this period Rayburn became progressively worse as expected with his form of cancer. On Oct. 15 doctors said he "had some periods of confusion" and was weaker, but he rallied during the day.

Doctors finally were forced to stop therapy designed to prolong Rayburn's life because of the unwanted side effects of the treatment on a person so gravely ill.

Last Saturday, his doctor said Rayburn had only hours or days to live. He lapsed into increasingly long periods of semiconsciousness or unconsciousness.

Before returning to his Bonham farm for a rest, Rayburn arranged for McCormack to take over the speakership on a temporary basis. That act put McCormack in line for formal election as speaker when the House reconvenes Jan. 10, four days after what would have been Rayburn's 80th birthday.

Surviving are two sisters Mrs. W. A. Thomas of Dallas and Mrs. S. E. Bartley of Bonham, and his brother, Richard Rayburn of Bonham. They are the last of a family that once numbered 11 children.

A bachelor, Rayburn's only marriage was dissolved several months after it took place in 1927.

In Augusta, Ga., former President Dwight D. Eisenhower termed Rayburn's death a grievous loss to every citizen.

Eisenhower, vacationing at the Augusta National Golf Club, said in a statement:

"Speaker Rayburn's legislative leadership was unmatched. It will long inspire all who seek important positions in public service. On international affairs he was a tower of strength for four presidents. An outspoken partisan, I found him also equally bipartisan in all matters affecting the security of our country.

"To know Mr. Sam was to admire and like him."

House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, in a statement issued by his Washington office, said: "Sam Rayburn was one of the great and good men of our time. He was a patriot of outstanding accomplishment. In these critical times his passing is a great loss to the Congress and the country."

Halleck, often at odds with the speaker's position on matters before Congress, added "ours was a close personal relationship that far transcended party considerations."

Mr. Rayburn Visited in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn, who died today, had visited in Arkansas a number of times, mainly as a speaker-maker at Democratic party meetings and other gatherings.

His last public appearance in the state was on Sept. 8, 1960, when he addressed the Democratic State Convention at Little Rock.

He also spoke here at a Democratic fund-raising dinner on Oct. 30, 1959.

Commenting on Rayburn's death, Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today:

"The country has lost a great American. Not many men had his ability and understanding of the people. His life spanned almost from the pioneer times up to the jet times. He had a fund of knowledge not many people have now."

Rep. Wilbur Mills, who was considered a protégé of Rayburn's, was not available for comment.

Rayburn often designated Mills who is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, to preside when the House was meeting as a Committee of the Whole or on other occasions when Rayburn was not in the chair.

Rep. Dale Alford said, "There will always be only one Mr. Speaker in the hearts of millions of Americans. His passing marks the passing of many important chapters in American history. He was a great statesman, a great American and a rugged individualist of pioneer stock. He was my friend."

Girl Keeps Family Together

By RICHARD YOUNGBLOOD
Grand Forks Herald

WARROAD, Minn. (AP)—Since September, Rita Foster, 20, has been mother and father to eight younger brothers and sisters.

Their father died from cancer in September, a year almost to the day after cancer had taken the life of their mother. Rita stepped in to keep the family together.

Several relatives live in the Warroad community, Rita says. "I suppose we could have sent the kids to live with them. But that would have meant splitting them up, and I will not have that."

Her voice had the snap of authority as she told one of the younger children to hang up her coat, another to stop teasing her sister, a third to get off the table.

"Sometimes they forget who's boss," she explained, "and I have to holler a little to remind them." But when Denise and Deanne, the 4-year-old twins who still do not understand what happened to their parents, began to cry, she swept them into her arms to comfort them.

"I'm just trying to run this household the way mom or dad would have run it," she said.

The other children are Nancy, 17, and Michael, 15, her chief helpers, Gloria, 14, Barbara, 12, Delorse, 11, and Roberta, 9.

Gen. Taylor's Ideas May Be Used

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is reported to have decided to go ahead with some of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor's recommendations for strengthening pro-Western South Viet Nam against a growing Communist onslaught.

"We're beginning to get off the ground," a high official told a reporter.

Secrecy still obscures details of what Taylor recommended to President Kennedy after returning two weeks ago from a fact-finding mission to Southeast Asia. Taylor is Kennedy's personal military adviser.

Reports from South Viet Nam indicated a number of actions already may have begun. U.S. Air Force jets have been carrying out aerial photographic reconnaissance. The Air Force has been reported shuttling planes.

Friendship Class Meets

The Friendship Class of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. A. L. Page on Tuesday night, Nov. 14 with Mrs. Joe Hankins as co-hostess. Mrs. M. C. Turner was guest speaker and gave the devotion.

During the business meeting plans were made for the Christmas Party to be held at the Barlow Tuesday, Dec. 12. The dining room table held an arrangement of "Horn of Plenty" running the full length of the table. Dried arrangements graced the living room.

Pie, nuts and coffee were served to 16 members and guests.

Coming and Going

Mrs. John Taylor of Clarksville was a Tuesday evening guest of Mrs. F. M. Horton.

Mrs. R. W. Bayless of Gordon arrived Thursday to spend the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. K. G. Hamilton.

Little Girl Feels All Alone

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I am 14 and have just lost my mother. The only one left is Dad and it's pretty lonely. He tries to be a mother and father to me and that's not easy for either of us.

Mother took life with a smile. He takes it hard. At breakfast I sit in her place and try to be cheerful but Daddy doesn't even say "Thank you" when I pass him a cup of coffee. More often than not he'll shove back his breakfast untouched, sigh, grab his hat and bolt for the office.

We have a maid and our home is beautiful—Mother made it that way. But without her, it seems so empty, so silent and sad. Even the sunshine is less bright.

I attend neighborhood high and would be popular with the kids if I were allowed to mix more with them. But I'm supposed to come straight home after school. I play records, watch TV or study but it's no fun alone. Daddy hears my lessons after dinner, then reads some dull book or smokes his pipe and stares into the fire.

Last night he did let me go to a party but drove me there and back. I met an awfully nice boy who wanted to see me home. But, of course, there was Daddy. I wanted to invite the boy over but he wouldn't let me. That's why I'm writing you.—Lonely

Dear Lonely: Your Daddy needs all the affection you can give him right now. If you're lonely, think what he must be. Death is hard to take, especially for older people. So, be as kind and understanding as you can. Concentrate upon cheering him up. Invite his friends to the house. Do whatever makes him happy. In the doing you'll help yourself, as well as him.

The experience will mature you. But that's all to the good. There's plenty of time ahead for dates and friends of your own. One day your Daddy will snap out of this and realize you have a life to lead too. Meanwhile, pick up where your mother left off. Bring back some of the gaiety and cheer which was her legacy to you.

Dear Helen: I'm going with a guy in the Army who still has four months of duty. We plan to marry next June, when I shall be 18. Would it be proper for me to wear his ring without setting the exact date? I feel if we were officially engaged it would give me something to cling to.—June Bride (1 hope)

Dear June Bride: The boy, not you, should take the initiative. Your letter implies he has yet to name the date. Don't breathe down his neck. Wait till he gets out of the Army.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine care of this newspaper. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Keystones of the Home."

New Commander at L. R. Base

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Col. Robert R. Strong was named Wednesday to command the 825th Air Division at the Little Rock Air Force Base.

Strong, now commander of the 4082nd Strategic Wing at Goose Bay, Labrador, will succeed Brig. Gen. John S. Samuel, who leaves Nov. 20 for duty at Air Force Headquarters in Washington.

A graduate of the U.S. Military Academy, Strong is a 21-year veteran. He once commanded the 376th Bomb Wing at Barksdale Air Force Base near Shreveport, La.

The appointment was announced by Lt. Gen. John D. Ryan, commander of the 2nd Air Force.

loads of supplies from the Philippines to airfields near Saigon. The supplies were said to include helicopters capable of carrying troops and mounting guns for low-level strafing.

There also have been reports that the Air Force is assigning several officers and men to give added instruction to the small Vietnamese air force.

Some members of the Taylor mission are known to have felt Vietnamese air power wasn't being used to its fullest advantage, even though it included only about a dozen single engine propeller-driven fighter planes and a handful of elderly transport aircraft.

To bolster this small force, it was understood a few World War II vintage B-26 bombers were being assigned to the Vietnamese. Pentagon officials who have talked with members of the Taylor mission received an impression of something less than optimism about prospects for pulling Viet Nam out of the fire.

There was a feeling in some Pentagon quarters that the mission of the U.S. Military Advisory Group in Viet Nam should be changed, that fewer members of the group should stay in Saigon and more get out in the country to work alongside the troops and local officials at the lowest possible level.

Condemns Trends in Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—David Levy, former NBC vice president in charge of television programming who looked into place the network's popular schedule for this season, took a critical look this week at the industry he's left behind.

In a speech before students of the University of Pennsylvania's school of communications, Levy particularly condemned TV's tendency to follow "trends" in program content.

Levy expressed hope that, just because NBC's new "Dr. Kildare" and ABC's new "Ben Casey" both series concerned with death, doctors in large hospitals—have been approved hits, that the networks would refrain from following them up with a flood of series about young dentists, young psychiatrists or young ophthalmologists.

He could not have been more correct in pinpointing one of TV's building at Bald Knob.

big troubles. ABC demonstrated his theme when the network's new audience participation show, "Yours for a Song" had its evening premiere Tuesday.

The new show has so many obvious ancestors—"Slop the Music," "Name That Tune" among them—that it had a familiar look immediately. But the big, "new" item is that when the contestants have finished trying to supply missing lyrics for old, awfully well-known songs, the studio audience joins in and sings the last chorus. And so do, it is presumed, the folks at home, because the words are flashed on the screen.

Remind you of anything? It must have taken a lot of creative thought to come up with a "Sing Along" device that might pick up some of Mitch Miller's been success and high audience ratings.

"Yours for a Song" is a shabby, dull show in spite of all the bawling from successful ones—and because it is so imitative and contrived it deserves a short life. Recommended viewing: "The Glamour Trap," NBC, 3-4—special day-time show for women, exploring our national feminine preoccupation with youth and beauty.

Hillbilly Joe Has Been Free 3 Months

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—

More than three months have passed since Joe Hildebrand made his second escape from State Hospital but the wily fugitive still hasn't been recaptured.

However, Mrs. Bob Rankin, the Pope County sheriff, said today she believes he still is hiding somewhere in his home territory—the rugged mountainous country north of here.

Hildebrand slipped away from a State Hospital early last Aug. 2—"Sing Along" device that might pick up some of Mitch Miller's been success and high audience ratings.

He eluded capture for more than a year on previous occasion but finally was located and arrested on Oct. 12, 1960.

That time he had been joined by a girl friend, Frances Standridge, and this, plus the fact that he was blamed for a series of offenses committed while he was at large, intensified the pursuit.

This time Hildebrand is playing it differently. The girl friend angle is missing, and there have been no reports of new offenses to blame him for. "Wherever he is, he seems to be behaving himself now," Mrs. Rankin said.

No search is going on for him now and Mrs. Rankin said there

Murder Charges Filed on Two

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Chief Deputy Prosecutor Rodney Parham Jr., filed murder charges against two Negro men Wednesday for unrelated shootings last month.

Willie Morgan, about 52, of near Scott was charged with first degree murder and Calvin Cook Jr., 38, of North Little Rock was charged with second degree murder.

Morgan is accused in the fatal shooting of his wife, Otilia, 28, at their home Oct. 29. Officers quoted him as saying he shot her because she would not mind him. Cook is accused in the death of David L. Moore, 28, of Little Rock who was slain at a North Little Rock cafe.

no longer were a great number of tips about his possible whereabouts.

Hildebrand, 24, first was sent to prison for robbing a tourist couple. He was furloughed to visit his ailing father and didn't return.

Arkansas R. Development Discussed

Arkansans in Washington
By GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army Engineers, who aren't in the habit of making extravagant statements are optimistic over prospects for Arkansas development when the Arkansas River is opened to navigation.

The present target date for opening the Arkansas river's 9-foot navigation channel across the state and to Catonsville, Okla., is 1970, or less than nine years away.

When he appeared before congressional committees earlier this year, Maj. Gen. Robert J. Fleming, Army Engineer for the Southwest Division, discussed prospects for navigation on the Arkansas and for general development in the state.

Cargoes of bauxite, timber, pulpwood, construction stone, petroleum products and some agricultural products, such as soybeans and cotton, should start moving promptly once the channel is completed, he said.

And, he added:

"It has been our experience with projects of this kind, that when you get navigation, an entire area for development opens, and I am willing to state right here and now that there will be products going up and down that river in 15 years from now that we couldn't possibly anticipate now because I think the whole area is going to develop, and many manufactured products will be going up and down."

Further, he said, development of navigation on the river, with resultant industrial development, could lead to an upswing in the state's population.

Fleming said construction of the project, involving building of numerous locks and dams, will provide employment the next few years for labor now in surplus in some parts of Arkansas. And this surplus labor also will be available to new industries.

Fleming also brought out that opening of the river to navigation would make huge quantities of coal in eastern Oklahoma and western Arkansas available for economic use. Much of this coal is on federal property, he said.

He said there probably are 3 1/2 billion to 4 billion tons of available coal underlying federal lands in eastern Oklahoma and while "this is speculation, if water transportation could be extended to where that coal is, the royalty value of the coal to the federal government might increase as much as three and four times what it is now."

Other boosters of the Arkansas navigation proposal have contended that this coal would be a boon to America's steel industry and could be utilized for steam-generated power plants to firm up the big supply of hydroelectric power available in the area.

Work will get under way in earnest during the next few years on the navigation channel. Much of the preliminary work is out of the way—bank stabilization, sedimentation reservoirs and the like.

This year Congress voted about $83 million for Arkansas River work in Arkansas and Oklahoma. Included was money to start design work on navigation locks and dams which will be required on lower reaches of the river.

Under present plans there are to be 15 of these locks and dams plus four larger dams upstream—Dardanelle and Ozark in Arkansas, Short Mountain and Webber Falls in Oklahoma.

Dardanelle, a power dam, now is under construction. Funds were voted this year to start design work on Ozark, in Franklin county, Ark., and Short Mountain.

Originally, plans called for a total of 23 locks and dams but, after studying the river characteristics and revising plans the engineers eliminated four and now say 19 will do the job.

Funds which Congress voted this year include $15 million for bank stabilization and channel work, $9 million for Dardanelle and $53 1/2 million for Eufaula and Keystone dams in Oklahoma.

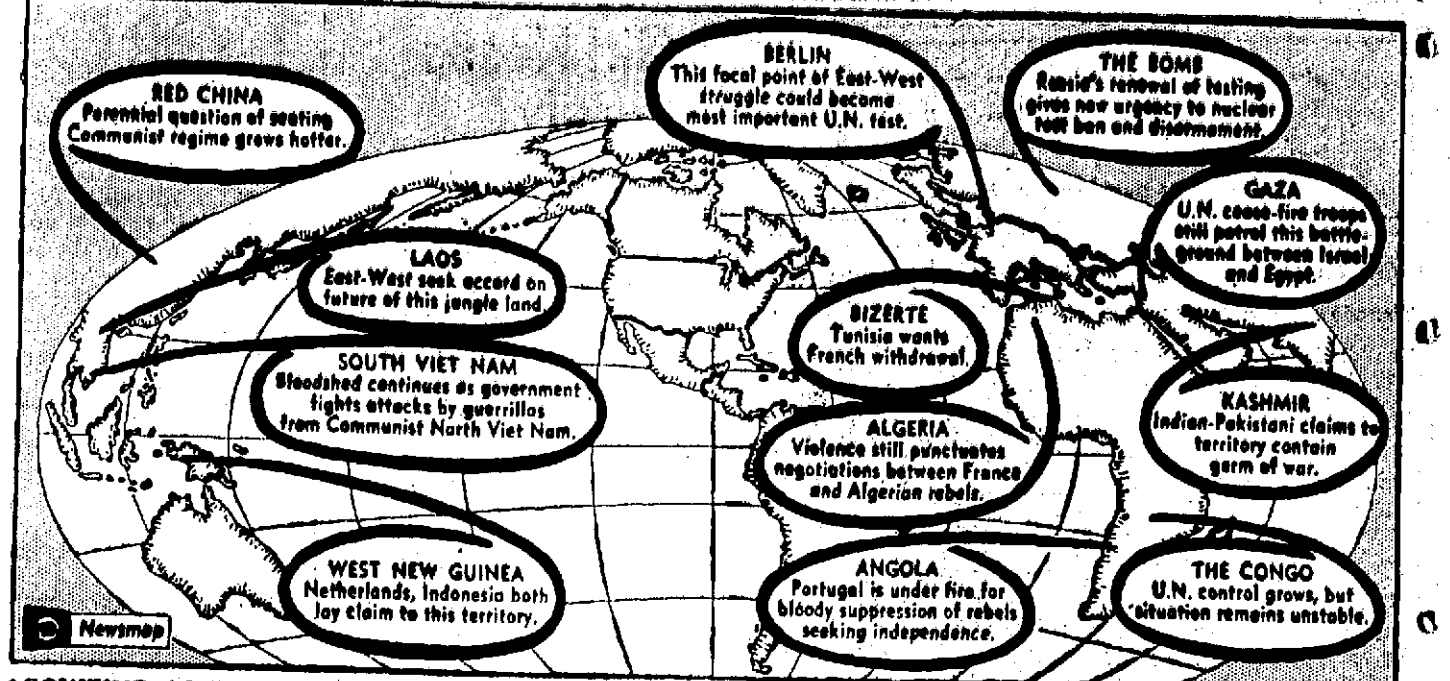

The cost of the 15 navigation locks and dams is estimated by the engineers at $449 million, Ozark dam at $26,300,000 and Short Mountain dam at $101 million. Cost of the entire project, including works now completed or under construction, is estimated at $1.2 billion.

AGONIZING AGENDA

Opening of the 16th session of the United Nations General Assembly finds no less than 77 pressing international problems on the agenda. Newsmap lists 12 of the more important ones, some new and some old. While the problem of the future of West Berlin is not officially on the agenda, it is expected to dominate discussions in the assembly. The question of admission of Red China may be one of the most fiercely fought over issues. Russia's attempt last year to turn the office of Secretary-General into a three-headed affair may be sidetracked this session, but almost any minor issue—such as seating new members—could erupt into a major crisis.

Trading Is Heavy on the Market

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market pressed further into record high ground in heavy trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.40 to 269.90 with industrials up 2.50, rails up .40 and utilities up .40.

Gains of a point or more by a number of blue chips lifted the popular market averages but the general pattern was an irregular advance. Key stocks showed more small gains than losses.

New highs by such stocks as American Telephone, Woolworth and Sears Roebuck helped boost the indicators substantially. Meanwhile, Big Three motors showed minus signs, steels were narrowly mixed and rails merely edged ahead.

Wall Street's mood was confident and there was nothing in the over-all news to spoil it.

Chemicals were spotty, aircrafts and drugs mainly lower. Oils and nonferrous metals moved higher on balance.

American Telephone touched a new high of 130 3/4 as it rose more than a point, then settled down a bit below its best. Sears Roebuck spurted 3 points or more, Woolworth well over a point.

Chrysler fell about a point, Ford a fraction and General Motors and U.S. Steel eased.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 4.94 to 737.50. Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange in moderate trading.

Corporate bonds were mixed and U.S. government bonds were unchanged to lower.

Shumaker Taken Over Officially

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP)—International Paper Co., and Brown and Root, Inc., formally took possession of the Shumaker Naval Ordnance Depot Wednesday.

The firm bought the government facility at auction. Lt. Cmdr. Robert Jelesnansky of the Navy turned over keys to representatives of the companies Wednesday.

Shumaker ended its day as a government facility with three Navy men and seven civilian employees working there. Peak employment during World War II was 5,000. More than 30,000 persons helped build the vast facility.

Brown and Root has pledged to try to develop its portion of the installation for industry. The firm bought most of the buildings. International's purchase was principally forest lands.

U. S. Draws Bead on Red Party Chiefs

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department has drawn a bead on Communist party leaders as the government nears.

The party has until Sunday to register with the department as an arm of the Soviet Union. If the party doesn't register, its officers must by Nov. 30.

Both deadlines are apt to be ignored by Communist party leaders, who have fought the issue in the courts since passage of the Subversive Activities Control Act of 1950, which prescribed the registrations. The Communists have vowed to go to jail rather than comply.

In the face of the defiance, Justice Department officials have begun mapping plans to prosecute. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy indicated in Dallas Wednesday the steps his department would take if the deadlines are ignored.

If the Communist leaders fail to register "as they have indicated," Kennedy told a meeting of the Associated Press Managing Editors convention, they will then be subject to a $10,000 fine and a five-year imprisonment. We will also move in that area."

Both the party and its leaders are subject to a fine of up to $10,000 for each day of violation of the registration requirements. If the two deadlines are ignored there is a third: party members must file by Dec. 20. If they don't, they face the same fine.

Also, individuals may draw a five-year prison term for each day they have not registered.

The showdown between the government and the Communists has been in the works since the law was passed. The deadlines are based on the Supreme Court's re-

3 New U. S. Satellites Circle Globe

By HOWARD BENEDICT
Associated Press Staff Writer

Three new United States satellites circled the globe today seeking data for navigation and spy-in-the-sky space systems.

The trio soared aloft Wednesday in one of this nation's most productive days in the space age.

Two of the satellites rode skyward in the nose of a Thor-Able-Star rocket fired from Cape Canaveral Wednesday night. One is the 190-pound Transit 4B, partially powered by a nuclear generator. The other is a 240-pound "Dumbbell" package which is intended to stretch out more than 100 feet in two weeks in a satellite stabilization experiment.

The satellite twins gave the U.S. a big boost toward a space navigation network to guide ships, planes, submarines and missiles.

Earlier, the 35th rocket in the Discoverer series flung a satellite into orbit from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., in another try at developing means of recovering capsules from space.

Within a few days, the Discoverer is scheduled to eject a capsule which Hawaii-based planes will attempt to snare as it parachutes to earth. Eight such capsules have been retrieved in previous tests. Perfecting the technique is essential for recovering data from the Midas missile detector and Samos reconnaissance

Okays Stock Sale

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Union Telephone Co., of Junction City got Public Service Commission approval Wednesday of a proposal to sell 33,000 shares of 6 per cent cumulative stock at $1 a share to finance operation of telephone exchanges at Junction City and Dodge City.

There is not one real river in all Arabia.

The successes raised the total of successful U.S. satellites to 59. The Soviet Union has orbited 13. In other missile-space developments Wednesday:

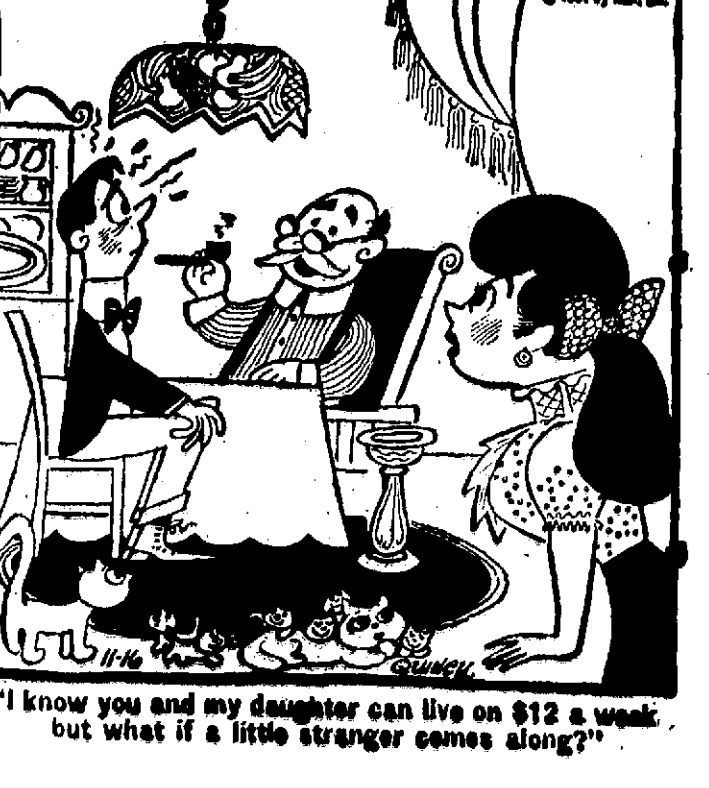

A Pershing artillery missile scored its 22nd success in 26 test firings on a short-range hop of less than 220 miles from Cape Canaveral.

The Nike-Zeus missile killer system registered a double triumph at White Sands, N.M. In one test, Zeus radar tracked a special missile test target. In the other, the launch technique and the ground electronic equipment were given a trial.

The Air Force announced plans to send into orbit next month a 10-pound satellite named Oscar to send into orbit next month a for orbiting satellite carrying amateur radio to beam signals to more than 200,000 amateur radio operators in this country. Intended to be kicked loose from a Discoverer, Oscar will enable the hams to practice the art of tracking and observing a moving space object.

In the only failure, an Argo De rocket broke apart shortly after it lifted off from Point Arguello, Calif. The shot was intended to probe briefly the Van Allen radiation belt with a parcel of instruments.

Porkers Picked Easy Winner Over Mustangs

By WICK TEMPLE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Arkansas' Razorbacks smell a bowl of December football and the meek SMU Mustangs don't appear to have the punch necessary to spoil the Hogs' hopes.

SMU is 2-5 and limping from a 25-12 loss to Texas A&M last week. Arkansas could be home free at 8-2 after a 100 triumph over Rice, but it's a good bet the Hogs won't lead down for SMU and Texas Tech.

That record would be good enough for a Gator or Bluebonnet bowl bid. If TCU or A&M upset Texas, the Hogs could share the Southwest Conference title, but Texas would get the Cotton Bowl bid because of its 3-7 triumph over the Hogs.

Elsewhere on the Arkansas college football scene this week, Arkansas Tech should clean up the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference race with a victory over Ozarks, and Arkansas State, with hopes of a losing season down the drain, can only hope for a victory over tough Citadel.

After a scurry 3-2 record last week, here's a look at this week's action:

ARKANSAS 21, SMU 6. The Hogs won't pour it on—They won't have to, and the Ponies don't seem capable of getting high enough.

CITADEL 33, Arkansas State 14. The Indians don't have the offensive punch, as witnessed in their 8-7 loss to Whitewater, Wis., State last week.

ARKANSAS TECH 26, Ozarks 7. Tech should be bitter after the 6-6 tie with Ouachita that spoiled its perfect season. Ozarks will be game, but that's not enough.

STATE TEACHERS 13, Henderson 7. The best of the lot, and it's scheduled for Friday afternoon. ASTC shouldn't go lower than 6-3, its present record.

SOUTHERN STATE 13, Arkansas A&M 0. The Mulieriders have had a week of rest.

Big Field Wars Up at Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—A field of 128 men and 64 women will warm up tonight in a "parade of champions" for the fifth annual world championship.

The preview in tonight's special competition for $3,000 in prizes will be followed by day and evening sessions for nine days and a climactic single daytime session on Sunday, Nov. 26.

LSU Eying a Bid to Rose Bowl

By ED TUNSTALL

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—With bowl atmosphere hanging heavy over Baton Rouge like Dixie dew, Louisiana State's Bayou Bengals stalk Mississippi State Saturday night for a victory that may pave the road to the Rose Bowl.

With LSU turning down a bid to the New Orleans Sugar Bowl earlier this week and conjecture that the Tigers may head west for a New Year's Day showing, the game with Mississippi State has almost been lost in the shuffle—almost.

LSU, gunning for its eighth straight triumph after a season-opening loss to Rice, figures as a three-touchdown favorite.

These are the weapons state must face:

Bengal halfback Jerry Stovall, looking more and more like an All America, leads the Tigers in rushing with 333 yards, has received nine passes for 135 yards and has a 38.2-yard punting average.

The passing of quarterbacks Lynn Amedee and Jimmy Field, who have completed 42 of 89 tosses for 594 yards.

Halfback Wendell Harris, the top scorer in the SEC, who seems to be approaching the peak once predicted for him.

And a savage line anchored by Mississippi State—now 5-3 for the season—offers the running of string, but had to overcome a fullback Mackie Weaver—298 yards on 89 attempts—and the car Robertson, who had 49 points, passing of Billy Hill, John Cor-rero and Charlie Furlow. The three have completed 69 of 120 passes for 776 yards.

Saturday a. m. Game on Tap This Week

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Shades of yesterday—there's a Friday afternoon and a Saturday morning game on tap this week in college football.

Virginia Tech entertains George Washington at Blacksburg, Va., in the Friday afternoon game. Saturday morning South Carolina and North Carolina State clash at Raleigh, N.C.

The N.C. State-South Carolina Atlantic Coast Conference game was re-scheduled to avoid a conflict with the Duke-North Carolina contest at Durham Saturday afternoon which will determine the AC champion.

The nation's top-ranked teams and bowl hopefuls were confident of avoiding upsets such as hit Georgia Tech and Colorado last Saturday.

Texas, ranked No. 1 in The Associated Press poll, engaged in a brisk workout stressing pass offense for Texas Christian.

Michigan State, seeking to rebound against Northwestern after last week's surprise defeat by Purdue, will be minus guards Ed Budde and Wayne Pontes. Both suffered ankle sprains. Ohio State guard Wayne Betz also suffered an ankle injury and is a doubtful starter against Oregon.

Hickey Tries to Restore Confidence

By HARRY JUPITER
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Like a Viennese analyst, Coach Red Hickey is trying to restore the confidence of his San Francisco 49ers by reminding them of happier days.

"Things weren't always like this," he tells his warriors, wounded in pride and body, as they prepare for Sunday's National Football League clash with the Chicago Bears.

He's showing them movies of their finest hours—their 49-0 trouncing of Detroit and 35-0 shellacking of Los Angeles in October. To the 49ers, that seems a long time ago.

San Francisco was sitting atop the football world a month ago but they've lost three and tied one in their last four games.

"The boys are working hard," Hickey says, "and I'm trying to encourage 'em. There never has been any apparent lack of effort."

Len Rhode will go at offensive tackle in place of big Bob St. Clair, who has a painfully pulled thigh muscle.

Abe Woodson, who won all league honors last year, is back in the defensive secondary in place of Jerry Mertens.

But Hickey won't say whether he plans to go with John Brodie or Bill Kilmer or both at quarterback now that Bobby Waters, the third stringer in the shotgun triumvirate, is injured and apparently through for the season.

"That's for the bears to find out," Hickey says, "but we'll have some surprises for 'em."

Barton Institute to Be Dedicated

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dedication of the $2.2 million T. H. Barton Institute for Medical Research, and eight-story addition to the University Medical Center here, was scheduled at 3 p.m. today.

Dr. A. McGehee Harvey, a Little Rock native who is now director of the Department of medicine at Baltimore's Johns Hopkins University, was dedication speaker.

The institute was named in honor of the late Col. T. H. Barton of El Dorado who made a $600,000 donation to start a fund for its construction. Other private contributors provided $468,000 and the U.S. Public Health Service allocated $1,066,000 in matching funds.

Barton's widow, Mrs. Madeline M. Barton was to be honored at today's ceremony.

Texas Expects TCU to Toss Many Passes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas, the nation's No. 1 team, goes after its ninth straight victory Saturday and its opponent, Texas Christian, fears it might be too sharp.

This unusual situation developed Wednesday when Coach Abe Martin of Texas Christian, thinking his Horned Frogs had been too sharp in practice, said he sure wish the boys had a normal letdown today.

"We may lose our edge before game time," he explained.

Texas probably wishes they would, but the Longhorns weren't taking any chances on the Frogs having a letdown—they went through a brisk workout, emphasizing pass offense.

Expectations were that Texas saddle, would be using the pass Christian, with Sonny Gibbs in the plenty and Texas may be preparing to fight fire with fire.

Southern Methodist got glummer when it lost another regular Right halfback Tommy Brennan went out with a knee injury and might not be able to play against Arkansas at Dallas Saturday.

Arkansas had plenty of spirit and it wasn't dampened in the least although the Razorbacks had to work out in the rain Wednesday. Coach Frank Broyles was somewhat concerned about his defense for the SMU spread formation. It was new stuff for the Razorbacks.

Texas A&M polished its aerial attack as the Aggies prepared to invade Houston for a crack at Rice. Coach Jim Myers had six men on the injury list and also feared one of them, tackle George Hogan, may not be able to play Saturday.

At Houston most of the talk concerned an effigy that appeared on the campus. It was the first one to be hung up of Coach Jess Neely in 22 years as head man at Rice.

The Owls haven't been doing very well in the Southwest Conference race, where they were supposed to be one of the leaders. Baylor, which hosts Air Force Academy Saturday, was cheered when all its injured appeared likely to be in shape to play. Three of them were ready for full service and a couple—quarterback Bobby Ply and fullback Dalton Hoffman—may be able to play part time.

Texas Tech which has the week off, got in its first practice of the week Wednesday.

Ferguson Is Leader in Rushing

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Halfback Pedro Ferguson of State Teachers gained 97 yards last week in the race for individual rushing honors in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference.

Ferguson picked up 146 yards against Austin College, but Arkansas Tech halfback Bill Curtis held the lead, although he netted only 49 yards against Ouachita.

Figures released today by Commissioner Cliff Shaw show Curtis with 718 rushing yards to 648 for Ferguson. Each has one game remaining.

Curtis and Ferguson also stand one-two in total offense with Southern State quarterback Lanny Shofner third at 600 yards.

Southern's David Alpe with 498 yards, Tech's Tommy Bach with 484 and Ouachita's Robert McGlothlin with 477 round out the top five in rushing. Teachers' Ted McConaughy, last year's winner and the leader this year until a month ago, has dropped out of the running.

Harding's Tommy Carter continues to hold the passing lead with 395 yards on 42 completions. McGlothlin remained the scoring leader with 61 points off 8 touchdowns and 13 conversions.

Rice Exports About the Same

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department predicted today that U.S. exports of rice in the first half of 1962 are likely to continue at around current favorable levels.

It said they may increase during the second half of the year if Asian and other competitive export supplies are committed to buyers early in the year.

"Exports for dollars (as distinguished from sales under the food for peace program for soft currencies) should continue to rise and should again be substantial enough to offset the loss of Cuban markets," a rice report said.

Maris Sees New Season as Challenge

By SKIPPER PATRICK
Associated Press Sports Writer

RAYTOWN, Mo. (AP)—Home run king Roger Maris, sporting his second most valuable player award in as many seasons, looks to the 1962 American League season as a challenge to keep on doing his "very best to help the Yankees to another pennant."

The reticent slugger, who socked 61 home runs last season, again edged out Yankee teammate Mickey Mantle for the award in voting by 20 members of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Maris received 202 points to Mantle's 198. A year ago he beat Mantle by only three points.

Jim Geille, Baltimore's first baseman, was third in the poll with 157 points. Norm Cash, Detroit first baseman, was fourth with 151 points and Yankee pitcher Whitey Ford fifth with 107.

Based on a count of 14 points for first place, 8 for second, 6 for third down to one for 10th, Luis Arroyo, New York's great relief pitcher, received 65 points for sixth place. Frank Lary, Detroit pitcher, with 53 points; Rocky Colavito, Detroit outfielder, 51; Al Kaline, Detroit outfielder, 35, and New York catcher Elston Howard, 30, rounded out the top 10.

Speaking for his family—wife Patricia and four young children—Maris said: "I'm real happy. All of us are happy. I was hoping all along I would win it but I wasn't sure until I got the official call."

Busy with details of building a new home "in the greater Kansas City area," Maris said he is dedicated toward "helping the Yankees win the pennant again next season."

Old and New to Argue Politics

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The purity of Arkansas politics will be argued here tonight by a veteran campaigner who lies the present system of government and a young lawmaker who wants sweeping changes made.

Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsen, the veteran, and the Ouachita County Rep. David Pryor, the neophyte, will meet under sponsorship of the Arkansas Association of University Women.

Pryor, who has been making a speaking tour to promote governmental change, will argue that the state needs a new constitution and drastic alterations of the governmental structure, particularly at the county level.

Van Dalsen will defend the present system.

The debate matches diverse political figures. Van Dalsen, 53, is one of the most influential House members, a former chairman of the Legislative Council and he has worked almost full time at politics for 25 years.

Pryor, 27, launched political career in his bid for his present position in 1960. He now attends the University of Arkansas, where he is studying law and government. For the past few years, he operated a weekly newspaper at Camden.

Pulaski County Rep. J. H. Cottrell Jr., a friend of both men, will moderate the debate.

Naturally Turkey Is a Good Buy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Housewives who want to get an early start on their family's Thanksgiving dinner will find turkeys available at bargain levels in many supermarkets and neighborhood groceries this weekend.

Turkey prices are as much as 10 cents a pound under a year ago. Charges run as low as 27 cents a pound for 8 to 18 pound turkeys in the Chicago area and 20 cents for 18 pounds-plus around New York.

For this weekend, pork in a wide variety of cuts offers the greatest number of bargains.

Smoked hams seem to be the most popular item. Regional offerings include loin roast in the Northeast; chops, spare ribs and smoked butts in the Midwest; and picnics, sausage and bacon in the Southeast.

Beef specials are scattered, although round, sirloin and porterhouse steaks are featured in the Midwest and chuck roasts and shoulder roasts in the Southeast.

Broiler-fryers are marked down in the Midwest and Southwest, while other poultry specials include baking hens in the Southeast and geese and duck in the Southwest. Fryers are marked up 1 to 2 cents a pound in California, but 10 to 15 cents in the Los Angeles area.

Eggs are 1 to 5 cents a dozen higher in the West and 2 to 3 cents higher in the East. Even so, they're 12 to 18 cents a dozen less expensive than a year ago in the New York area.

Cranberries and processed cranberry products are plentiful.

Best buys among vegetables are carrots, cauliflower, cabbage, corn, onions, potatoes, turnips, spinach, squash, celery, lettuce, sweet potatoes and tomatoes.

Fruit counters are well stocked with apples, oranges, grapefruit, and grapes.

Seek Jobs for Young Americans

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy appointed a committee today to help young people find jobs, saying he is disturbed over the "serious plight of the nearly one million out-of-school and out-of-work youth."

The President declared that "our youth are our greatest resource." He said the continued unemployment among a million young jobseekers today and the prospect that many millions will enter the labor force in the next few years demand immediate attention and action.

The 23-member committee is headed by Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg and includes other members of the Cabinet, labor leaders, and public members.

Dr. James B. Conant, former president of Harvard University, was named vice chairman. He recently made a study of urban conditions and said young people out

Surprised by His Students

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—A college instructor, recalled to active duty with the Army as an armorer, said today he was shocked and surprised his former students want him released.

"I knew nothing about it until the battalion commander told me what was going on," said Spec. 4, Class Allen Boyd Bogard.

He declined comment on reports students and faculty members at Wittenberg University plan to petition President Kennedy for help.

The petitions are expected to be circulated on the campus of the Springfield, Ohio, school Thursday.

Bogard, who holds bachelor and master degrees and was working on his doctorate when recalled to school and work constitute "social dynamite."

The President met this morning with Goldberg and other members of the committee. Goldberg said the group hopes to report before Congress reconvenes Jan. 10. It will meet again Dec. 14.

Marines Held in Death at Base at Cuba

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Two Marines reportedly are being detained in connection with a Navy investigation into the death last month of a Cuban worker at the Guantanamo navy base, the Newark Evening News said today.

Cuba has charged that Americans murdered the worker, Ruben Lopez, the News said in a dispatch from Washington.

In Washington, the Navy and Marine Corps said only that an investigation into the circumstances surrounding Lopez's death is being conducted.

The Marines were being held in Camp Lejeune, N.C., the News said.

Two public references to the death of Lopez have been made by the government.

On Oct. 17 the Department of Defense announced that Lopez's body had been found in a shallow grave inside the Guantanamo base. Eight days later State Department press officer Lincoln White told newsmen that the Czech ambassador, acting for Cuba, had delivered a note of protest concerning the death.

Homer Fine After Getting a New Lung

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Homer, a sad-eyed hound, is a frisky dog five months after one of his lungs was replaced by a transplant and a research team thinks this may be a step closer to successful transplant of major organs.

One of Homer's lungs was replaced May 26 by a lung from another dog. For two weeks he received daily injections of methotrexate, a drug originally developed to fight cancer. He was very sick for a time, but recovered.

Doctors at the University of Michigan Medical Center believe methotrexate may have properties that prevent rejection of alien tissue.

Transplant of eye corneas, blood and bone fragments are fairly common, but transferring major organs is difficult because such tissues usually are rejected by the receiving body.

Warrant Issued in Murder Case

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—A warrant was issued today for the arrest of Mrs. Mary Lou Henson, 39, who failed for the second day to appear in Craighead Circuit Court to face a first degree murder charge.

Mrs. Henson was scheduled to be tried Tuesday for the death here of her 19-month-old step-daughter, Christine, last New Year's Eve.

She contends the child died after falling down a flight of steps. Judge Charles High ordered her $5,000 bond forfeited and issued the arrest warrant.

Defense Attorney W. B. Howard told the court he felt "some sort of calamity had befallen her." "She has not contacted me nor any member of her family," Howard said.

Howard told the court Tuesday that Mrs. Henson had left for a short trip to Chicago but was scheduled to return in time for the trial.

U. S. Dollar Heading Into More Trouble

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Fear that the U.S. dollar is heading into another struggle in world financial markets is an added starter at today's meeting in Paris of 20 nations, all entries in the world trade competition.

And the American delegates also are aware that the United States is anticipating one of the bitterest battles in years over a revision of its tariff policies.

The Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, meeting in Paris, is known as the Atlantic Community, although some like Turkey and Greece are a bit distant from that ocean. Its official aim is to expand world trade and spur economic growth.

Looking over the shoulders of the delegates at the conference is the Soviet Union. The Reds are conceded to be planning a stepped-up assault on world trade markets themselves. They've already inflicted considerable pain on American oil companies.

The United States is especially interested just now to see world trade expand—specifically its own exports. Its imports have climbed sharply and so has the deficit in its balance of payments. If continued, the trend could put pressure on the value of the dollar.

The deficit arises because the dollars we spend abroad on imports, foreign aid, military commitments, investment, travel exceeds the dollars we get back for our exports, earnings on investments. The deficit almost disappeared early in 1961 but jumped by 50 per cent during the summer and now runs around $3 billion a

Nurses Named to State Board

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus appointed four nurses today to the Arkansas State Board of Nurses Examiners from a list submitted by the Arkansas State Nurses Association.

The new members are Mrs. Georgia Buchanan of Hot Springs, Mrs. Nell Balkman of North Little Rock, Sister Clare Marie Freeman of El Dorado and Mrs. Lucila Warren of Little Rock.

Mrs. Buchanan succeeds Sister Mary Humbeline of Hot Springs, who resigned. The others were appointed to fill expired terms.

Some of the dollars that foreigners get are used to buy gold from our Treasury. And a year ago the outflow of gold reached a volume that made the dollar itself unpopular in some world financial markets. The United States bolstered the dollar's value by trimming the deficit through cuts in overseas spending and pushing of American exports.

Now the threat is once again sighted. Not even the dollar could hold its exchange value if the imbalance continued indefinitely.

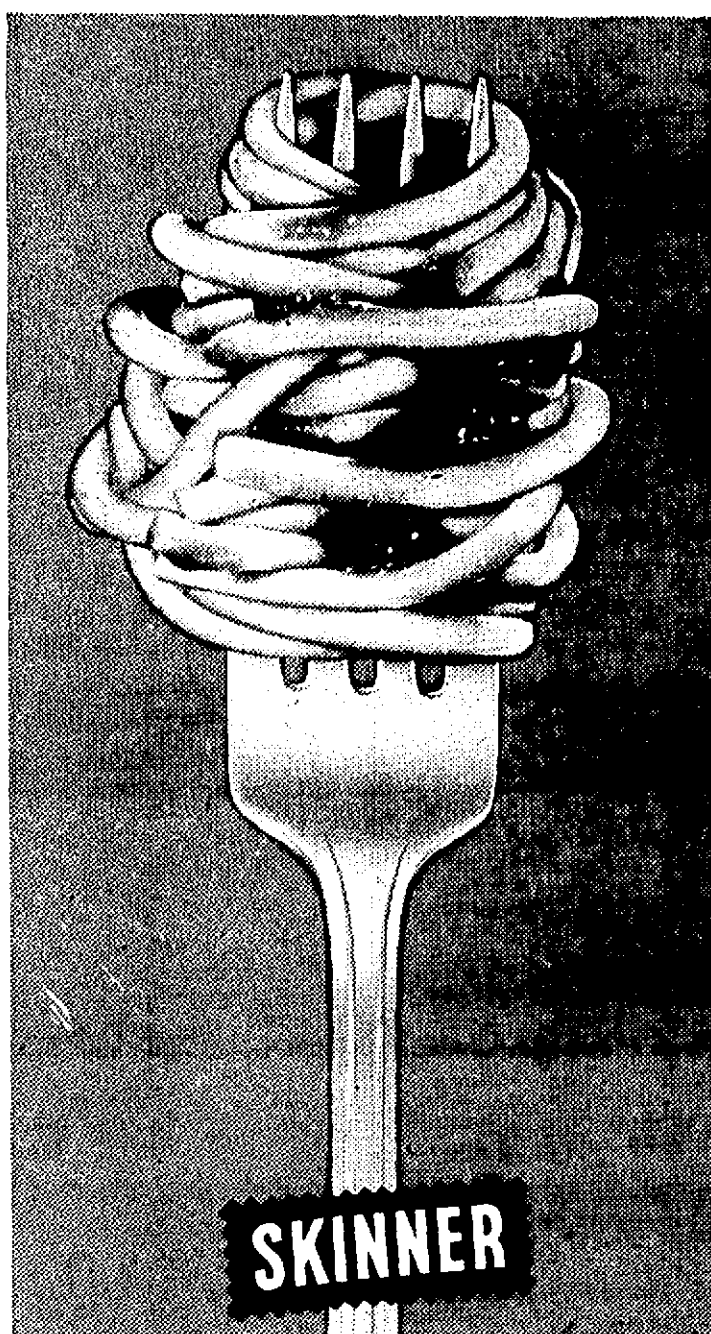

Adding to the problem is the rapid growth of Western Europe's economy and export trade and the move of Britain toward joining in a trade bloc with nations on the Continent. That could freeze American exporters out of an important market.

The U.S. administration talks of meeting this threat by bargaining for trade concessions. And to be able to bargain it proposes to ask Congress for power to cut tariffs further here.

Opponents of further tariff cutting are numerous. And so are those, both in management and labor, who think tariffs already are so low that ruinous foreign competition is being encouraged in domestic markets.

The fight in Congress could be a major one.

That's the background as the United States starts today's talks in Paris about ways to speed up economic growth for all the 20 nations and make trade freer.

GOLDEN GLOW of QUALITY

You can see the difference in Skinner Spaghetti. It has a "golden glow of quality"—a rich appetizing color. Not that white pasty look. You can tell the difference when you cook it. It cooks tender, yet firm. And you can taste the difference when you eat it. Why? Because Skinner has a revolutionary processing method and uses only 100% amber durum wheat...the very best for macaroni products. That's why.

HOURS TO KILL

BY URSULA CONTI

THE STORY: Jerome Kincaid, a mysterious stranger, appears at the house in which Margaret Russell is staying. He wants to see Mrs. Foale, who owns the place.

Chapter IV
Margaret said randomly as the car moved down the hill. "What did you want with Mrs. Foale?"

"Nothing. We have a friend in common in New York, and I was at a loose end, so—"

So you thought you'd slip in and have a look at her house and her things while she was out. Finished Margaret's mind. The comfortable blueness was gone, because for all its odd friendliness Kincaid con-

"But you're not getting out? Tell her to jump in, and I'll drive you back."

"Thanks," said Margaret steadily, "but it's a lovely afternoon and I want to walk."

Kincaid knew exactly what had happened; she saw a betraying flicker of muscle at the corner of his mouth. "Is that good for wet hair? And what about the doctor?"

Margaret gazed at him, saying finally with dignity, "He's obviously going to be late on his rounds today."

She turned away. A horn sounded impatiently behind Kincaid, but before he put the car into gear he said, "I'm not due on the Coast for a few days. I'll call you if I may."

"Yes," she looked like a handfull.

"She's very nice, really," said Margaret, and had the small satisfaction of a lie of her own.

"Thanks very much for the ride."

headache. I told you," said Hilary reproachfully, "that I wasn't allowed to go to the movies."

Margaret felt an instant pang of contrition. Just then Hilary betrayed herself; she was after all only eight, and an apprentice Machiavelli. "Did you throw away my scrapbook things?"

"I didn't touch them." So that was it, something to do with the scrapbook, almost certainly something to do with Mrs. Foale.

They reached the house. Margaret used her key and the door fluttered briefly in and was shut out again. Hilary said, tossing her coat in a heap, "Mrs. Foale heralded money."

"Pick up your coat. Heralded money?"

"That's what this girl told me."

"What girl?" Like all conversations with Hilary, it demanded infinite patience—and half the time Hilary was only talking to set up a screen against doing something like picking up her coat.

"A girl at the movies. She asked me where I lived and I said Mrs. Foale's house and she said Mrs. Foale heralded money."

Inherited, she must mean—but what an odd, unchildlike thing to confide about someone.

Margaret must have spoken the key word aloud, because Hilary said alertly, "Like Cornelia?"

"Like . . . ? Yes, I suppose so."

"How much did Cornelia inherit? It's not polite to ask," Hilary said, answering herself rapidly.

"No, it isn't," said Margaret rather shortly.

Miss Lilma Trumbull, of Torrington, Conn., had left her estate to her second cousin, Cornelia Ann Russell. After taxes, the estate was estimated $50,000.

It was one of those thunderbolts which usually hit someone else and are duly chronicled in the newspapers, and Cornelia and Margaret sat up a good part of the night marveling at it. Wilma Trumbull, a dour woman in her late seventies, was almost unknown to both of them except for a weekend they had spent with her once on their way to summer camp. Cornelia 13 then and Margaret nine. They had both sort of dutiful notes on arrival, but Cornelia had followed hers with a woven grass basket which was her group's current project. A note complimenting her on her industry came back, and Cornelia was spurred to send a mutilated piece of leather handicraft at the end of the summer. This went unacknowledged, but after that birthday cards came regularly, and then the traditional graduation watch.

There was certainly nothing to suggest that Miss Trumbull would make Cornelia her legatee, or even that she had a fraction of

TV Brought Changes in 4 Careers

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Television—perhaps specifically the first "Sing Along with Mitch"—show two seasons back—is responsible for the loss of an electrical engineer, a diplomat, a physician and a broadcasting executive.

Those were the professions toward which members of a singing group called "The Brothers Four" were heading when the lightning of success struck.

The four, all from the Seattle area, were fraternity brothers, seniors at the University of Washington. John Paine, Bob Flick, Dick Foley and Mike Kirkland had made a recording, "Green Fields" which caught on. Then came the "Sing Along" date.

Occasional TV appearances have been vital to their success, the boys say. They have done guest shots on all the top network shows. As a result record sales have increased, they can demand more money, turn down jobs they don't like. (They don't like night club dates), and have become financially secure.

The disadvantages are that none has found time to finish his college education. They spend more time jetting around to their far-flung dates than they spend on the ground. In the past eight days they have played college dates (which they do like) in eight places, ranging from Florida to Michigan, from the west to the east coasts.

Has Trouble Ordering Breakfast

By BUD SPRUNGER

NEW YORK AP—A stranger in this town can run into trouble trying to order breakfast.

Friend of mine from the Southwest couldn't get a doughnut. They kept handing him something with jelly in the middle—where the hole is supposed to be. Finally he found out that in this spot the word for doughnut is cruller.

Arriving from San Francisco, I made the mistake of asking for a snail with my coffee. The cludes turned sort of green before I corrected that to butterhorn. They figured that out but told me in the future to ask for Danish.

Other translations are not quite as difficult. Almost any tourist can figure that hotcakes on the menu are pancakes.

But you can get mixed up in the names of meals. In the Midwest, Southwest, West and South we say supper for the last meal of the day, but around here it is dinner. And so they won't get confused, they say lunch when they mean dinner.

And, oh yes, around here they call a waitress Miss, not Mam, as in the Southwest.

By and large these folks speak English pretty well, but they do have a lot of trouble with the

Accomplice in Theft Released

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. AP—Edward A. Epping, accomplice of former State Auditor Orville Hodge in a $1.5 million theft of state funds, was granted a parole today.

Hodge and Epping, his one-time office manager, were sent to prison in 1956. Epping is serving a 1- to 10-year term in Menard State Prison for larceny, confidence game and embezzlement.

Hodge is serving a 12- to 15-year term in Menard. He has asked for a pardon or a reduction in his sentence which would make him eligible to apply for parole immediately.

The so-called Hodge scandal broke in August 1956 and stunned the state. A banker testified that Epping, then a 36-year-old certified public accountant, received cash for fictitious state warrants totaling $134,000.

Congolese Mutiny in the Congo

By PETER GROSE

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo AP—Several hundred Congolese troops are rising in mutiny in two eastern Congo cities, the United Nations announced today. A spokesman declared the world body intends to put down the lawlessness by force if necessary.

Some 700 soldiers at Kindu refused Tuesday to hand over 13 Italian airmen they had arrested and beaten last Saturday.

U.N. sources said a high-level party from Leopoldville which went to negotiate their release—including the troops' army commander, Gen. Victor Lundula—had to flee from the Kivu Province town for their own safety.

From the north Katanga town of Albertville, the United Nations reported about 100 Congolese troops entered the city and within seven hours Tuesday created an "impossible" situation.

Orders were sent to the Indian U.N. contingent at Albertville to intervene to halt "mutinous and lawless acts," by force if negotiation proved fruitless.

A U.N. spokesman said the troops in Albertville arrested Europeans and Africans, looted houses, erected a roadblock in the town and tried to extort money from passersby.

Qualified sources expressed fear that the rampaging troops were acting under the direction of Lumumbist leader Antoine Gizenga and that Gizenga was turning against Lundula, nominally his supporter and friend, and Christophe Gbenye, a former ally now in the Leopoldville central government.

These sources said Gizenga is believed to be in Kindu giving directives to the Kindu garrison.

The Italian airmen were taken prisoner shortly after arriving at the Kindu Airport. The U.N. reported Congolese troops fired at them and that they were beaten. The U.N. spokesman said the men are believed to be alive but the headquarters here has no details.

Neither the U.N. nor diplomatic analysts was willing so far to assign a specific cause to the mutiny.

word bring. They hand you something and say "bring it over there." Apparently the teachers around here don't drill their kids on the verb take.

New Yorkers go to business, while the rest of us go to work. Maybe they just don't work as hard here. I don't know.

You never hear of them going to the city, either. Just about everybody in Northern California goes to the city when they go to San Francisco, which they pronounce San Francisco. But here suburbanites say they are going to New York, and those that live in boroughs other than Manhattan say they are going to town.

Clothing can cause you trouble too. I wanted a pair of Levis the other day and some clerk was trying to be helpful. After I had tried out overall pants and jeans on him, he finally convinced me that what I wanted was a pair of dungarees. Turned out he was right.

Maybe the trouble here is the schools. The kids around here don't get grades. No, sir. What they get are marks.

And although that bring and take thing floors them, the Eastern kids go to grammar or elementary schools instead of grade schools.

When they go to a grocery, they haul home a bag of food when they should be getting a sack. Or, as they say in Tennessee and Kentucky, a poke.

Kroll's Fate Left Up to Adenauer

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials said today the future of Hans Kroll as West German ambassador to Moscow is strictly up to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

State Department authorities are known to have been annoyed by what they consider Kroll's "free wheeling diplomacy" during a discussion of the Berlin crisis with Soviet Premier Khrushchev in Moscow last Thursday. But officials said it would be improper for Americans to suggest that Kroll be transferred to another assignment.

The Soviet news agency Tass was quoted in a dispatch from Moscow Tuesday night as saying the West German government was ready to sacrifice Kroll in order to satisfy Washington. But authorities here said there was no uncertainly in Washington about the West German government's basic views on the need for a coordinated Western approach to the Soviet Union in dealing with the Berlin dispute.

Kroll was summoned back to Bonn by Adenauer and a statement issued there said that the Berlin settlement proposals which he outlined to Khrushchev were his own personal ideas and were not authorized by the West German government.

According to information made available here, Kroll advised U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson and the British and French envoys in Moscow, following his meeting with Khrushchev, that he had advanced a number of suggestions for a Berlin settlement. He said Khrushchev solicited his ideas as to how the crisis might be ended.

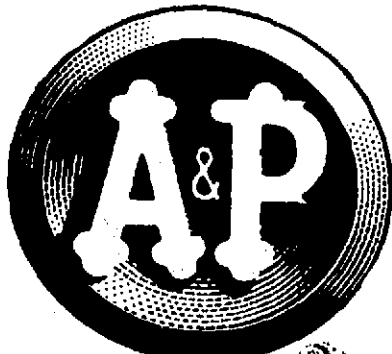

His suggestions included a four-power agreement on the future of West Berlin, including the continued presence of Western forces there; a Soviet agreement with East Germany to respect Berlin status; and a technical agreement between the Western powers and the East Germans on operations arising out of Berlin's special status and the operation of the supply lines across East German territory.

Will Favor U. S. Selling Slavs Wheat

By ENORE MARTON
WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Security Council likely will recommend that the United States continue selling surplus wheat to Communist Yugoslavia, informants said today.
But, they said, Marshal Tito didn't help his own case.
At Skopje on Monday, he criticized what he called American "reactionaries and capitalists" and accused them of hindering the sale of wheat to his drought-ridden country for political purposes.
Tito's speech did not surprise Yugoslav specialists here. The Yugoslav president, they said, is not the man who could bear in silence the increased U.S. criticism of various U.S.-Yugoslav dealings, such as the sale to Belgrade of obsolete jets and atomic reactors.

President Kennedy has ordered a review of the U.S. aid program to Yugoslavia in the wake of the Belgrade conference of nonaligned countries last September. Washington thought Tito, who professes to be independent, supported Soviet policy at the conference.
The National Security Council is expected to complete its review of the Yugoslav situation by the end of this month.
Despite its disappointment with some of Tito's public statements, the Kennedy administration feels it should continue aid to Yugoslavia, informants said.
In April and in July, the United States sold $64 million worth of surplus agricultural products to Yugoslavia for Yugoslav currency. About half of it was 500,000 tons of wheat which reached Yugoslavia a few weeks ago.
At the end of July Yugoslavia submitted a new request for a million tons of wheat. The request, the State department an-

Welfare Late, Had to Go to Work

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—A welfare recipient, whose support check did not arrive when expected, sent a letter to Clinton County Welfare Commissioner Richard H. Duquette.
It said: "My check was so late that my husband had to go to work."

Appeals Sentence

LITTLE ROCK AP)—Lawrence John Higgins of Seattle, Wash., appealed to the Arkansas Supreme Court Tuesday from a 15-year prison sentence assessed against him on a burglary and grand larceny conviction in Benton Circuit Court at Bentonville.

nounced Tuesday, is still under consideration.

2 Arkansas Newspapers Win Awards

DALLAS AP)—Two Arkansas newspapers were cited today by the Associated Press Managing Editors Association, for outstanding membership participation for the year. They were among 40 in the nation given special recognition.

They were the Stuttgart Daily Leader and the Harrison Daily Times.

The Leader was cited for its exceptional coverage of a freight train wreck in the pre-dawn darkness near Hazen last March 25, when the countryside was endangered by escaping ammonia from two of the 26 derailed cars.

The Harrison Times was cited for its coverage of a flash flood which cascaded through the business district of Harrison in the early Sunday morning hours last May 7.

Garner Allen, News Editor of the Stuttgart Daily Leader, did the reporting on the train wreck which he followed up by coverage of a tornado which struck Stuttgart after midnight on March 27. In all, Allen was kept hopping on big state stories for more than 20 hours.

Five of the 26 derailed freight cars were loaded with military explosives which, along with the escaping ammonia fumes, spread alarm through the countryside. One family, living nearby, was evacuated. All livestock was herded out of the danger zone.

The Leader won its citation both for news and picture coverage.

J. E. Dunlap, general manager of the Harrison Times, did the reporting on the flash flood which wrecked 80 per cent of the Harrison business district and caused millions of dollars of damage.

Dunlap was attending a state Associated Press meeting at Fayetteville when word reached him of the flood. He raced back to Harrison. His own newspaper was intact although water was lapping at the building's doorsteps. But the business area itself was shambles.

Piece by piece Dunlap put together the story, phoning the Associated Press as the gravity unfolded.
Then, as the spectacular aspects faded into reality of rebuilding, Dunlap kept Associated Press members abreast of the rebirth of a city that wouldn't die but lived to become an even more modern community.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The award of 40 citations to newspapers, radio and TV stations for outstanding contributions to The Associated Press news report was announced at the annual convention of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association which opened here today.

The recipients were honored for exceptional cooperation in the coverage of news events in their areas in behalf of all members of the AP.

Thirty-seven of the citations went to newspapers and three to broadcasting stations. In some cases, those receiving the awards had made a story or photo, or both, available to all members of the AP before they could use them themselves.

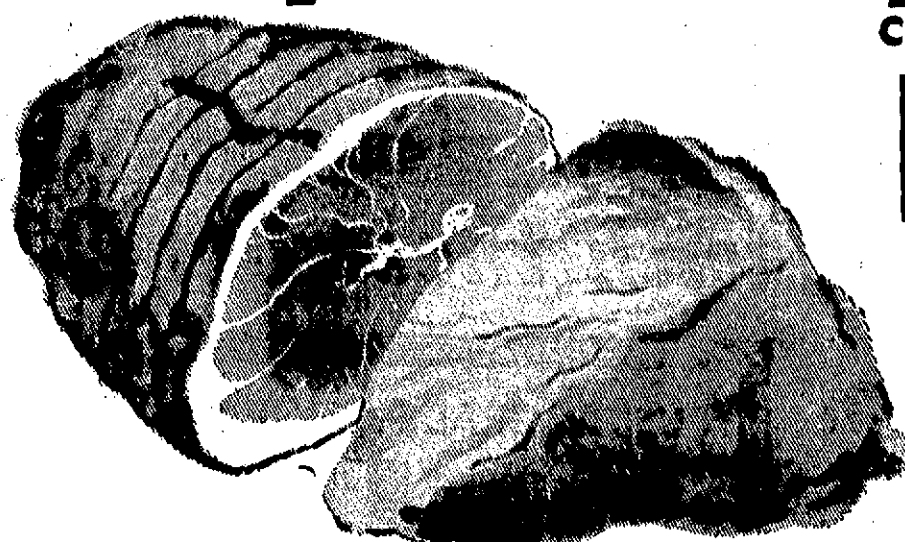

The citations were signed by J. Edward Murray of the Arizona Republic, president of the APME; and Ernest Cutts of the Charleston (S.C.) Evening Post, chairman of the APME Citations Committee. Those receiving the citations were:
